

December 14, 2012

Avish Parashar
Avish Parashar Productions, Inc.
2801 Pennsylvania Avenue, #A205
Philadelphia, PA 19130

Dear Avish,

Thank you very much for presenting your “Ding Happens!” program for our December holiday meeting.

Your content and style were different from our traditional meeting content, and I am happy to say that the feedback has been extremely positive. There was a definite “buzz” after your presentation, and I think people will be talking about it for some time to come. One attendee said, “This was the most non-boring meeting I have ever been to!”

The program was an excellent blend of content, fun, and humor, and hit the perfect tone for our end of year holiday meeting.

Your topics of change, quick-thinking, and improvisation are relevant to all professionals in the financial and banking industries from both a professional and personal standpoint. I would recommend that anyone looking for a fun and content filled keynote presentation should consider using you for their next event.

Sincerely,

Joe Balent

Joe Balent, President
Philadelphia Association for Financial Professionals